CELT'S DEBUT SUCCESSFUL

SON OF COMMANDO QUALIFIES FOR BROOKLYN HANDICAP BY CANTERING VICTORY.

Moorish King Wins the Amateur Cup-Wise Mason Defeats Joe Madden in the Baychester Handicap.

New York, May 27.—Today's originally light card at Belmont Park was further depleted by scratching because of the sloppy track. The race in which celt was entered developed into a one-sided affair. The Keene crack encountered only nominal opposition and had simply to canter the mile and a furlong, hard beld, in 1:58 to win by a dozen or more feagiths. Celt pulled up a half-dozen strides past the finish and trotted back to the ludges' stand as sound as when he won the Brooklyn Handican a year ago. It was an impressive public trial for the top weight in this year's assignment of imposts for the same race, and, barring accidents, the wonderful son of Commando—Maid of Erin should have no serious difficulty in repeating.

Except a fractom difference in the case of Mexical Commando—Maid of Erin should have no serious difficulty in repeating.

Except a fractom difference in the case of Mexical Commando—Maid of Erin should have no serious difficulty in the same favorite that materialized during the afternoon, and his closing odds of 1 to 30 were absolutely prohibitive. Everyone of the sextette of winners led from start to finish and scored easily. Never for a moment was there any doubt as to the ultimate result in any case, which is something of a record for a day's racing. The smallest field of all—two—Wise Mason and Joe Madden, contested the Baychester Handicap. Wise Mason displayed pronounced incrovement over his preceding effort and from first to last simply toyed with his solitary opnoment. The half-brother of McChesney is an impressive sort and may prove worthy of his near relationship to that great thoroughbred.

The Amateur Cup was the sporting feature and trought many of the lunting set to the park. It diveloped into a runaway after for Moorish King, they are also the set of the park. It diveloped in to a runaway after for Moorish King, they have the set of the park. It diveloped the a runa

A. Blakeley made the important announcement uring the afternoon that Master Robert will be a absentee from the Brooklyn Handicap. The mery crack has been coughing and is likewise suffring from skin eruptions.

J. E. Madden has purchased the season's contract a jockey J. McIntyre from William Garth,
The local municipal ferry receipts showed a big illing off last year, largely due to anti-racing lexistion. The Thirty-ninth street ferry alone was flected to the extent of $30,000.

With the exception of the cap and sleeves the teket colors of A. J. Cassatt, worn by The Bard of the last century, were borne by the lockey on he Chokrumaster of Chesterbrook in the third race diday.

MADDEN PROPOSES MATCH RACE.

New York, May 27.—John E. Madden, breeder of Sir Martin, whose chances of winning the English Derby yesterday were ruined by his fall, is said to have suggested that Louis Winans, the horse's present owner, arrange a match with Minoru, the winner of the Derby. He declared his belief that Sir Martin will be able to beat Minoru in a two-horse

Immediately after the result of the Derby was announced Madden sent his congratulations to King Edward. Today he received the following reply. which he proudly showed to all his friends at the track this afternoon:
"John E. Madden—King thanks you for your congratulations.

"Knollys."

gratulations.
(Signed)

Mr. Madden considers this prompt reply to his message quite a compliment, for, as a rule, the king uses the more formal method of letter writing in answer to communications of the sort sent.

Madden also received a characteristic telegram from his two sons now at school near Washington.

"Pana: Just tough racing luck. We'll beat them yet,"

Edward and Joe Madden.

FAR WEST TO BECOME A JUMPER.

New York, May 27.—John Miller, who trained the stable of Mortimer and Charles Schwartz successfully for several seasons, has turned Far West over to the manager of the Schwartz farm in New Jersey, where the big son of Montana will be developed into a jumper. The Schwartzes are in Paris this spring.

into a jumper. The Schwartzes are in Paris this spring.

It is not improbable that Far West may make a useful steeplechaser. Frank Brown, who trained the horse before he became the property of the Schwartzes, put him through the field several times, and he took to jumping as a duck takes to water. Far West has won creditable races at one mile and a quarter, and if he learns to jump he may become a first-class fencer. He is possessed of considerably more class than the average horse racing through the field. The Schwartzes thought of schooling Far West for jumping several seasons back, but deferred sending him through the field because of his ability to win on the flat.

PAT DUNNE'S VIEWS ON APPRENTICES.

Cincinnati, O., May 27.—Pat Dunne, admittedly a close observer and a man of much commonsense indigment, expresses himself thusly upon the new rule put into effect by the Kentucky State Racing Commission limiting the apprentice allowance to the owner of a boy's contract:

"I think that the rule allowing five pounds for an apprentice rider should go for all horse owners with a modification of the present rule. What I think would be fair for everyone would be to make the apprentice allowance last until a jockey won twenty five or thirty races. As soon as he wins that number he is no longer an apprentice. If a boy is two or three years winning that number of races, that does not make any difference, for he really is only an apprentice all the time or he would have gotten the required number at one meeting."

MEETING PROPOSED IN IDAHO.

Salt Lake City, Utah, May 27.—S. H. Walker of Pocatello, Idaho, has been here trying to arrange a race meeting to be held at Pocatello immediately following the Utah Jockey Club's local meeting. He had a long talk with treasurer Gleason regarding a proposed meeting. Mr. Gleason told him that if track proposed meeting. Mr. Gleason told him that if track accommodations could be arranged for, the Utah Jockey Club would consider giving a meeting at Pocatello.

DEVELOPMENT OF CANADIAN RACING.

DEVELOPMENT OF CANADIAN RACING.

"The beginnings of racing in this community were long ago, and the men who saw them are no more," writes the turf editor of the Toronto Globe. "The late 'Hank' Chappell, of Sandwich, raced horses on the banks of the Humber in 1838. He had a starter in the Plate of 1855 and again one in 1904. The late of the blistory of the Plate in 1904. Mr. Littlefield is still hale and hearty, and engaged in the healthful occupation of training. His son, Barry Littlefield, it was who trained for Mr. Seazram the horse that won the Plate last year.

"The City of Toronto and Home District Turf Club held a race meeting on Scarlett's Plain at the Humber in 1840. Later there was a track near the Don where the cattle byres now are, of which it is said that the black loam made the best and most resiliant footing on the continent. There was then the Grange course, between Snadina avenue and Bewerley street. Then the sports before being and the strength of the sports before being and the strength of the strength of the plate in the strength of the strength of UNSANCTIONED RACING AT TORONTO.

Toronto, Ont., May 27.—An extended summer meeting is planned for Dufferin Park, a local half mile track, following the close of the Woodbine meeting. The meeting will be under the auspices of the York Riding and Driving Club, which organization managed a fall meeting at the same track last year. The plans contemplate opening on Tuesday, June 8. The Woodbine meeting will close June 5. The purses will not be less than $200, with handleaps ranging in value from $300 to $500. Five carloads of horses are expected from Jamestown to participate in the racing. It is claimed that already there are 100 horses on the grounds. The meeting will be outside the pale of recognized racing in Canada, as the Canadian Racing Associations has already outlawed those horses, owner and jockeys who participated in last fall's meeting at the same track.

TEST WILL BE AT INGLESIDE.

San Francisco, Cal.. May 27.—The plan of certain owners of coursing hounds to arrange for a test of the Walker-Otis anti-betting law has drawn forth an announcement from Manager Jerry O'Shea of the Ingleside Coursing-Park that he intends to test the law soon. This was the plan originally arranged with the backing of the race-track interests. The coursing men, who have been anxious for early action, have agreed to await the result of the test at Ingleside, which is within the corporate limits of San Francisco.

NEW SCHOOLING SYSTEM WORKS WELL.

New York, May 27.—A noticeable fact is that the schooling list on the New York tracks is of small proportions at present. In other years the list would average thirty bad actors throughout the racing season.

The system now employed, that of having the assistant starters devote forenoons at Belmont Park, Sheepshead Bay and the Gravesend courses, has much to do with the tractibility of the horses racing on the metropolitan courses.

OWNER OF OLAMBALA DISAPPOINTED.

ROUGH RIDING AT LATONIA

Track Conditions Worst in Long Time, but the Favo ites Keep on Winning.

circinnati, O., May 27.—Excepting that today's starters in the majority of the races were of better class than those which performed yesterday, the sport did not show much improvement. Probably never before has the oval here been in such frightful shape. A heavy storm this morning made matters worse. During racing hours the threatening clouds broke, way and present indications point to improved. Several layers discontinued operations today because of losses sustained yesterday. Speculation, because of the bad state of the track and the short odds that have been quoted, has fallen off since opening day, and the fifteen layers in line, including the two fielders, were amply sufficient to take care of the wants of those cager to wager. A feature of today's racing was that five favorites and a second choice captured the purses, causing the bookmakers further losses, the condendance showed an increase over yesterday can the crowd became enthusiastic toward the close of the day. Especially was this true of the last race, when Lillian Ray, Meadowgrass and Camel mished noses apart. There was some who were inclined to disagree with the official placing.

The three-quarter dash, second on the card, was the best offering. It resulted in a victory for Sea Swell, backed almost to the exclusion of the others. There was considerable crowding during the first three furlouiss, for which Taplin, on Marbles, was the best oblame. Charilie Eastman was the chief sucrees. No complain the bing lodged, the officials sucrees. No complain the bing lodged, the officials sucrees. No complain was the official placing and it served to defeat Eye White. Troxler, on Bob Co., the winner, was the offender, He pulled sharply across to the inner rail soon after the start and before getting clear of Feye White. The latter lost considerable ground and was knocked far back, but Montain's claim of foul was not allowed.

STEEPLECHASE JOCKEY KERMATH RETURNS

New York, May 27.—Jockey John Kermath has arrived from Maisons-Laffitte, While in France Kermath rode in the silks of the Bonnie Brook Stable. He won several races for the American stable through the field, but as the future held no brilliant prospects for the candidates handled by the American trainer, William Hayes, Kermath decided to return to these shores, Negotiations are under way for Kermath to join the stable handled by trainer Silas Veitch.

REAL ESTATE FOR RACE TRACK STOCK.

San Francisco, Cal., May 27.—Thomas H. Williams, president of the New California Jockey Club, has transferred to Colonel Pañ Burns, formerly actively associated with him in the management of racing affairs on the coast, 3,000 acres of rich reclaimed delta land on Union Island in the San Joaquin river. The consideration is said to have been upwards of $150,000 and the deal is supposed to have some connection with the recent sale of Burns' holdings of New California Jockey Club stock to Williams. The latter inherited the Union Island property from his father. The land is very rich, and has been producing large crops. There has never been an inundation there and the returns from the crops have been unusually large each season.

QUEEN VICTORIA FAVORED RACING.

Victoria, the "Good Queen," held it among her official duties to concern herself with that which interested and entertained so great and inductial a number of her subjects. She maintained a successful breeding establishment, from which came some of the most famous names on the British turf. Always so long as her health permitted, she attended, in state, the racing at Ascot, the Royal Windsor meeting, and elsewhere, and was delighted when her home-bred horses triumphed, the climas being reached when the heir to the throne won the Derby twice with the wonderful brothers, Persimmon and Diamond Jubilee.

LOGAN GOES TO NEW BRUNSWICK.

Montreal, Que., May 27.—Logan, the iron horse, recently presented to the Canadian National Bureau of Breeding by Mrs, Alex, Shields, has been placed under the auspices of the government of New Brunswick under National Bureau rules. Before leaving Montreal he was examined by a veterinary and pronounced absolutely sound, a remarkable condition for a horse of his age—twenty-one years—and long racing career. Logan is by Voltigeur—Pert, by Pantaloon. He is a handsome horse and looks better even now than he did when racing. He is good for seven or eight years in the stud and should leave behind him progeny which will be a credit to Canada.

NAVAL DAY AT JAMESTOWN.

Jamestown, Va., May 27.—Today was Naval and Marine day at the Jamestown track. Over 500 of Uncle Sam's boys in blue were present when the horses paraded to the post for the opening race. The sport was marred by the sloppy condition of the track. Betting was brisk and the four pencillers did a thriving business.

Little "Heine" Radtke, the midget brother Herman Radtke, a Chicago boy who achieved distinction in the saddle, is showing promising form at the Salt Lake City meeting, where he had his maiden mount a few days ago. The lad is under contract to J. O. and G. H. Keene, who sold the elder Radtke's contract to Paul Rainey for $25,000

Some Salt Lake City people remained away from the races when it rained a day or two ago on the theory that the program would be postponed because of the weather. They had been accustomed to the postponement of trotting races under similar conditions, and were surprised to learn that the runners race rain or shine. The Salt Lake City public is taking kindly to the running races, lowever, and that seems destined to figure prominently in summer racing in the far west.

Mrs. John Sanford, whose husband is a member of the State Racing Commission, was at Belmont Park Tuesday with Mrs. Thomas Hitchcock, Jr. Mrs. Sanford is an enthusiastic votary of racing and takes particular interest in the Saratoga meetings. It is at Saratoga that the Sanfords make their start every year, and H. H. Hyner is preparing a strong string for the coming meeting at the Springs. The Sanford stable is essentially a New York stable. General Stephen Sanford, the vejeran carpet manufacturer of Amsterdam, raises his racers at Hurricana Farm, in the Mohawk River country, and he never sends his stable out of the Empire State.

May forced the early pace and, after shaking off Uncle Toby in the stretch, had enough left to stall off Genmell's rush. The latter, messed about all the way, went very wide on every turn, but finished zamely and was catching the winner at every stride. Uncle Toby set the early pace, but tired and was probably a bit short. Dareington tired badly. The winner was entered for $500: no bid.

BETTING DEBTS IN ENGLAND.

The English law as to the recovery of betting debts has been a source of income to lawyers for a number of years. The gaming acts of 1815 and 1892 make these debts irrecoverable, but in recent years there has been a disposition on the part of the judges to allow these cases to be tried, with the result that judgment has at times been given for plaintiff.

result that judgment has at times been given for plaintiff.

The rule has been that unless the defendant pleaded the gaming acts as a defense the judge had no option but to try the case. The trial of these cases has resulted in the ruling that a post date cheek, a promise to pay in the future or the payment of an installment of the debt is sufficient to make the debt a new contract, and judgment has been given for plaintiff in such cases.

This state of affairs has given rise to a new system of collecting debts by bookmakers, who in the first place threaten to report the punter to the Turf Guardian Society, which has a list of defaulting backers. Should this fail to secure payment the punter is warned that Tattersalis, which controls the betting rines; will be moved to expel him from the turf, and should these threats fail he can always be coerced by a threat to bring him before the court.

Judge Parry, of the Manchester County Court, dealing with one of the cases recently, commented upon the methods of the bookmaker thus: "Before a bookmaker can succeed in such a case he must go to the backer and say: 'You belong to this club and if you do not promise to pay in such and such a time I shall go to so and so.' I call that black nailing; the law calls it consideration for a promise.' He then gave a werdlet for the defendant.

A new county court rule has just come into force which will clear the courts of these cases. It is worden as follows: "Nothing in this rule shall entitle the provisions of the gaming acts, 1846 or 1892, by reason of these acts not having been pleaded as a defense."

Therefore it is no longer necessary for a defender.

Therefore it is no longer necessary for a defendant sued by a bookmaker in the county courts for the recovery of bets on horse racing to plead the gaming acts. Notice will be taken of the act by the county court judge without its being pleaded and the action will be dismissed as an illegal dispute.

The star performers of the east and west will measure strides at this course. If you play in the handbooks, these races will without doubt be the best to follow, for the reason that added starters, odds-on favorites and scratches will not be so numerous as at the New York tracks. The biggest operators on the turf will hang up their slates here and good odds will be obtainable. If you have not been successful playing your own or other people's selections, "give us a trial." We have the very best of connections and will be in a position to furnish our clients with the same brand of information that we did during the seven-days meeting last fall. Below Is Our Record.
